THURSDAY HIGHLIGHTS Schedule on center spread

Thursday Keynote Dr. Carla Jefferson 10:55am - 12:00pm, on the Main Stage of the Exhibit Hall

Carla Jefferson is the proud principal of the Darlington County Virtual Academy for the Darlington County School District in South Carolina. A 24-year veteran educator, she's been a classroom teacher, school level curriculum facilitator, and district level administrator. Her motto, "Why Not Darlington?", inspired by a colleague, motivates her to fight for digital equity, not only for the children of Darlington County, but children all over the world. Carla is an Apple Distinguished Educator, Google Certified Educator/Trainer/Innovator, 2017 PBS Lead Digital Innovator for South Carolina, ISTE presenter and 2020 ISTE featured speaker. Her work is highlighted in publications like ISTE Empowered Learner, Tech & Learning Magazine, and District Administrator.

Carla is a current member of the ISTE Board of Directors and has served on the ISTE Digital Equity and EdLeaders PLN Leadership teams. She also served as a member of the South Carolina ASCD Board of Directors, was instrumental in founding the South Carolina Association of School Administrators (SCASA) and served as the 2019-2020 chairman for the SCASA Instructional Technology Roundtable.

After Hours Host, Carl Hooker

6:00pm - 10:00pm Friday in rooms Fort Western, Howard and Arnold

Carl Hooker was a keynote speaker at ACTEM 2016, and he is returning to Maine to MC ACTEM After Hours (replacing the Brew CUE) and also will provide a couple of workshop sessions at the conference. Hooker has been a part of a strong educational shift with technology integration since becoming an educator. From teacher to district technology leadership, he's always had one common belief – the kids need to drive their own learning. He realizes the challenges in current public educational and meets them head on. His unique blend of educational background, technical expertise, and humor make him a successful driving force for this change.

Known as the Godfather of LearnFestATX which has grown into a global phenomenon over the years. This learning festival has impacted schools and districts from all over the world, inspiring spin-off events in other states as well as in Australia.

Carl brings his 20+ years of educational background, technology integration, and outside-the-box thinking to all of his talks. His unique blend of humor and practical advice is a powerful message for any school, district, or conference!

Bookstore Open all day.

Check out the ACTEM bookstore! There is a large selection of books by ISTE and the Ed Tech Team Press. We also have copies of books by this years' keynote speakers available that you may get signed by the authors.

FRIDAY HIGHLIGHTS Schedule on center spread

Connect and reconnect actem 35 years

Friday Keynote Joe Welch 9:15am - 10:15pm, on the Main Stage of the Exhibit Hall

Joe Welch, American History teacher from Pittsburgh, PA, and a 2022 National Teacher of the Year finalist is Pennsylvania's 2021-22 Teacher of the Year. He was also honored as 2019 National Middle Level Educator of the Year. He is recognized as a Gilder Lehman Institute Master Teacher and was recognized as their National History Teacher of the Year in 2018. An Apple Distinguished Educator and National Board Certified Teacher, Joe is a strong believer in bringing diverse stories, emotions, innovative strategies, and community connections into his lessons as well as fostering excitement for quality and engaging educational opportunities.

Following Mr. Roger's mindset, he asks: how do we connect kids with new people, new places, new organizations and do it together? At the end of last year Joe was trying to keep students connected to each other, and of course worried that his school wasn't doing enough. In a survey, he asked students

"how did you feel about this school year?" and was worried about responses but students were positive. One in particular said, "I felt like I belonged this year" ...isn't that the number one thing we want students to feel? Technology can help ignite that feeling of belonging; we are lucky to have the tools that make students feel that they belong to their school and their community.

In our schools, technology has been the vehicle to bring the seemingly shrinking globe to the screens and fingertips of our students. But, when we teach, learn, and think in this manner of purely looking to connect to the boundaries beyond, we may overlook the opportunity to find connections within our classrooms, schools, and regions. As we find ourselves in challenging times for students, families, and educators, let's explore how we might foster connections that exist in our own educational "backyards."
